

Taj Safaris offers Wildlife Escape in India

Taj Safaris has announced The Wildlife Escape Offer—an Indian jungle safari experiences. Guests can enjoy stargazing excursions, survival training programs and jungle drives conducted in an open 4x4 safari vehicle, direct from Taj's safari lodges.

The company's luxury safari lodges in the jungles of Central India—Baghvan in Pench National Park, Mahua Kothi in Bandhavgarh National Park, Pashan Garh in Panna National Park and Banjaar Tola in Kanha National Park—will reopen for a new season on October 1, 2018.

Children can try their hand at The Young Naturalist Program; available at all lodges, to brush up on their jungle survival skills. They will learn to make fire; rope knots and uses an old water compass to find their way and more.
